(a) In the years 1090 and 1091 the southern taluks of the State wer under the monopoly farming system, and no figures of trees tapped by the farmers of the southern taluks are available. The figurce mentioned in this statement for 1090 and 1091 show the trees tapped in the northern taluks only. From 1092 onwards ths farming system was done away with, and the tree-tax system introduced in the southern taluks as well.

(b) The increase in the number of trees tapped for fermented toddy in 1100 is not a real increase. It is due to the licensing of trees in the southern taluks for half-yearly periods from 1100 onwards unlike those of the previous years.

* The particulars of trees licensed for sweet toddy from 1090 to 1094 are not available since the T. T. registers concerned have been destroyed under the rules. The total number of trees have been noted from the Administration Reports of those years.
